FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

Russian Censorship of the "Wretched" Papers—Record of Irish Convictions.

LeCaron Denounced—A Fine Interpretation of United States Laws.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

London, June 24—The Russian censorship of the press has redoubled its vigilance in the past two weeks and is now so vigorous that items of news which come by telegraph from St. Petersburg or elsewhere in the empire, are of the mildest and most colorless nature. Everything of a political character is now forwarded by Russian correspondents by mail as far as the German frontier, whence it is telegraphed. Such news as is allowed to filter through in this way confirms the reports heretofore received of the strained relations between Russia and Italy, and indicates that the Italian ambassador at St Petersburg finds himself at the Russian court in a position that is all but unbearable.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Dublin, June 24—The five railway officials who were arrested, charged with the responsibility for the Armagh railroad disaster, have been committed for trial.

LEOPOLD'S MARRIAGE.

Berlin, June 24—The marriage, civil and religious, of Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, to Princess Louise of Schleswig, sister of the Empress of Germany, was celebrated to-day with great pomp and splendor. The Emperor and Empress and all the royal family witnessed the ceremonies. A grand banquet was given at the palace in the evening, at which the Emperor toasted the bridal pair.

BISHOP CLEARY'S DIOCESE.

Dublin, June 24—Bishop James N. Cleary, of Kingston, Ont., has been nominated as successor of the late Right Rev. Pierre Power, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore.

AN AWFUL RECORD.

London, June 25—In a small pamphlet just printed by order of the House of Commons, is contained a record of convictions of members of Parliament for offences against the Crimes Act, showing that during the past year Irish members have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment aggregating nearly seven years. Twenty-four Irish members have been convicted and one English member, Mr. Conybeare, has a sentence still hanging over him. Cox and Finnucane sustained no less than five prosecutions, though their sentences aggregated only five and nine months respectively. Mr. Condon is undergoing his fourth incarceration, having altogether been sentenced to eight months imprisonment. Edward Harrington has to complete his term of six months following another of one month, and Patrick O'Brien's two convictions have shot him up for seven months. William O'Brien has received sentences aggregating sixteen months; David Sheehan, ten months.

BOULANGER THE CAUSE.

Paris, June 25—The report is now becoming generally believed that the French government intends to hasten the elections and that it will probably fix them for the middle of August. This will be done in order to utilize its success during the exhibition and to thus fell the Boulanger. The government will also for some reasons avoid giving a formal report on the investigation of the charges against General Boulanger. Its such a report it could not fail to weaken its position.

DISCUSSING WAR.

London, June 24—In the House of Lords to-day, the prospects of a European war were freely discussed, and the attention of the government was called to the serious danger to England which would result if the annexation of the island of Crete were accomplished by one of the powers, as it is reported to be in contemplation. Lord Salisbury states that the government were not unmindful of the possibilities which might be the outcome of the present state of continental Europe, but he assured their lordships the report that any of the great powers were seriously contemplating the annexation of Crete was unfounded.

St. Petersburg, June 24—The government is about to issue a loan for the purpose of building several fortresses and strategic railways. The semi official press daily indulges in attacks upon Italy. The Czar goes out of his way to snub M. Demarschelli, Italian ambassador, and misses no opportunity for so doing. At the last state ball he purposely ignored the Ambassador's presence, and when the latter placed himself in the Czar's way and it was impossible to avoid him, the Czar gave him the coldest possible greeting.

A FALSE FACE.

London, June 25—Before the Parnell Commission to-day Commissioner Joseph Kenny testified that he did not know Leceron, the spy. He denied he introduced Leceron to Mr. Sexton; he would not allow such a man into his house. Leceron, he said, had a false face, which would make honest men chary of associating with him.

OUR WIVES' SISTERS.

Marriage with them Discussed by the General Assembly.

Toronto, June 20—The question of marriage with deceased wife's sister came up in the general assembly in the Presbyterian church to-day. The returns of the Presbyteries on last year's remit were presented. Last year's remit to the Presbyteries asked these bodies to pass judgment as to whether or not subscription to a formula which virtually precludes marriage with deceased wife's sister should be optional to office holders in the church or not. Twenty-five Presbyteries out of twenty-nine reported in favor of subscriptions to the formula being optional and the assembly resolved accordingly.

Going to Vancouver.

It has been decided that the B. C. F. G. A. will go to Vancouver for the 1st of July. They will parade on the grounds at 9 o'clock on Sunday night and then march on board the steamer Princess Louise, which sails at midnight. The uniform worn will be "Review Order", with great coats rolled, haversack and gaiters. Each non-com. officer and gunner will be provided by the officers with a free pass to Vancouver and back. On arrival at Vancouver the city will provide them with all necessary refreshments and food during the day. After the parade in the morning the men will be dismissed to do as they please till the "assemble" is sounded for returning home at night. A steamer leaves vancouver at 6 o'clock p. m. on Monday, the 1st, and another at 1 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday, the latter reaching Victoria about 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Men can return by either of these boats on their passes. We are glad to see our citizen soldiers giving a helping hand to Vancouver in her celebration, and we hope every man in the brigade will be on hand on Sunday night. Do not let private engagements interfere with your duty. Turn out in force and do credit to the city you belong to and which is proud of you. "C" Battery band will accompany the brigade and the New Westminster company of Artillery and the Rifles will join them at Vancouver.

The Good Work at Nanaimo.

The two branches of the Christian Church, as represented by the Presbyterians and the Methodists, have been worshipping collectively in Nanaimo for the last few weeks under one pastor. The pastors of these churches have been in need of a short vacation, and the happy plan adopted was that of one relieving the other during the vacation. Such is the harmony existing between these denominations that the people cheerfully assent to the proposition, and as intimated above, meet under one roof from Sabbath to Sabbath. Last Sabbath the services were held in the Methodist Church, which was filled to the utmost capacity. A very interesting, as well as impressive, feature in connection with the service, was the receiving into full connection with the church no fewer than thirty persons. They were the ladies and gentlemen who three months ago were led to adopt the Christian faith under the earnest ministration of the Rev. Joseph Hall, President of the Conference, and pastor of the Methodist Church at Nanaimo. It is learned that a few more who would have also joined were unavoidably absent. These will therefore be received further on.

AMERICAN DISPATCHES

Death of Mrs. Hayes, Wife of ex-President Hayes—Burke's Extradition Papers.

Mob in Woodstock, Ont., Attack a Blundering Druggist's Establishment, etc.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

Washington, June 25—George A. H. Baker, of Illinois, of the State's Attorney's office, Chicago, has laid before the Secretary of State an application for extradition papers for Martin Burke, held at Winnipeg, as one of Cronin's murderers. Baker expected to transact his business so as to leave for Chicago with the papers in his possession, but owing to the absence of the President from the city he was unable to start on the homeward journey before seven o'clock last night. The State Department officials have taken all preliminary steps towards expediting Baker's business, and all that now remains is the signature of the President to the warrant. From Chicago he will go to Winnipeg to bring Burke back.

THE LITTLE REPUBLIC'S NEUTRALITY.

New York, June 25—The Courier Des Etats Unis, writing editorially this morning on Bismarck and Switzerland, says: "The neutrality of Switzerland, in the event of a war in Europe, would be exposed to extreme peril; and the eagerness, which the German Chancellor has shown in exaggerating the insignificant Mehlgmuth incident, can have no other purpose than to create in advance pretexts for aggressions of which he would avail himself at the proper time and place. The neutrality of Switzerland is menaced even more than that of Belgium. In the event of war with France a violation of Swiss territory would be a necessity for the German army, which would thus turn the forts on our eastern frontier and especially of the auxiliary Italian army, which would seize the almost impassable defiles of the Alps. The strategic consideration may perhaps explain the animosity with which Bismarck has treated the Wahlgmuth affair.

CATHOLICS IN COUNCIL.

Washington, June 25—The eleventh annual convention of the Roman Catholic Union of Knights of St. John was convened here this morning with several hundred delegates in attendance. Previous to the formal opening of the convention the delegates attended mass in a body at St. Patrick's church.

COLORED JURORS.

Charleston, S. C., June 25—Dr. L. B. McDow's trial for the murder of Editor Dawson began this morning in the criminal court, which was crowded with a dense throng of white and black people. Ex-Governor Magrath and A. D. Cohn represent McDow, and the Circuit Solicitor and A. M. Smith prosecute. The jury is composed of seven colored men and five whites. The impression prevails that McDow will get off; about forty witnesses are to be examined.

LOOK OUT FOR HER.

San Francisco, June 25—The steamer Crescent City, which arrived from Crescent City this morning, reports having left towing the schooner Wing and Wing, which went ashore there a few weeks ago. A gale sprang up next morning and the latter parted. It was impossible to remain by the schooner and the steamer continued to port. The schooner became waterlogged and is probably now drifting about.

RATHER EQUIVOCAL.

Washington, June 25—The State Department has no knowledge of the story that the United States has entered into an agreement with the English Government to effect a sort of truce in the Behring Sea fisheries matter. In fact the department is somewhat surprised at such a report being circulated.

GETTING IT DOWN FINE.

Washington, June 25—The Treasury Department has decided that a pair of railway car tracks imported from Canada to replace a pair destroyed on a car belonging to the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railway while in Canada are liable to duty at 45 per cent ad valorem, even if the axles are of domestic manufacture.

MRS. HAYES DEAD.

Fremont, Ohio, June 25—Mrs. Hayes, wife of ex-President Hayes, died this morning at 6.20.

THE RING.

San Francisco, June 25—The glove contest between Tommy Warren of Los Angeles and Johnnie Griffen of Brain tree, Mass., which was to have taken place next Friday night at the California Athletic Club for a purse of $1,500, has been postponed until July 12th on account of an accident to Warren, who injured his groin in playing football.

UNRULY INDIANS.

Helena, Mont., June 25.—News reached here early this morning from Arlee, the principal town in the Flathead reserve, that Sheriff Heifron and a posse of Missoula county who went to the reserve to arrest three Indian murderers, are having a battle with the Indians, who refuse to give up the men wanted. Two Indians are reported to have been killed already. Agent Ronan has called on the officer in command at Fort Missoula for troops, but that officer is waiting orders from Washington. In the meantime a posse of well known citizens from Missoula, headed by Mayor Sloane, has been organized and is on its way to aid the sheriff. The civil officers are determined to arrest the murderers and as the Indians are determined not to give them up serious trouble is feared.

PHILANTHROPIC.

San Francisco, June 25—The will of Robert C. Johnson, a deceased merchant, was filed for probate to-day. The estate is valued at over one million dollars. One hundred thousand dollars is left for charitable purposes.

SOCIETY ITEM FROM BOSTON.

Boston, June 25—Frank Mitchell, the English featherweight, who has been accepted by the California Athletic Club as a substitute for Ike Weir in a match with Billy Murphy of Australia, will leave for San Francisco to-morrow night. Young Mitchell and Prof. Watson will probably train him.

A WOODSTOCK MOB

Toronto, June 25—Fifty persons were prostrated and fifteen are expected to die from drinking lemonade in the town of Woodstock. Sugar of lead was found in the drink, which was served at a picnic. The druggist's careless mistake in giving sugar of lead for tartaric acid was the cause of the poisoning. A mob raided the druggist's store, which was closed. They used a battering ram and demolished the building. The stock of sugar of lead and other drugs were scattered broadcast. A warrant is out for the druggist, who is supposed to be hiding in the woods. A crowd has started out to hunt for him.

CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATION.

It has been decided in the Toronto Central Bank liquidation case by the Meter in Ordinary that A. Campbell, W. Gooderham and W. H. Howland shall receive $5,542 commission, to be divided equally among them as liquidators of the Central Bank. Campbell will draw an additional $2,500 for services as auditor for the interim liquidation.

A Toronto dispatch says: The appointment of Judge Strong as principal of the Law School may leave a vacancy on the Ontario bench. R. L. Walkem, of Kingston, is spoken of for the vacancy.

A HUNGRY CAT.

Madera, Cal., June 25—Geo. Crooks, a rancher living in a cabin about twenty miles from here, was found dead in his bed this morning with a large cat on his breast devouring his face.

PICKED UP.

Eureka, Cal. June 25.—The waterlogged schooner Wing and Wing was picked up outside of the harbor last night by the tug Robert.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND BLAZE.

Benicia, Cal., June 25—At 1:30 this morning fire broke out in the Pioneer Tannery, the largest and most fully equipped concern of its kind in California. A high wind was blowing and the firemen were unable to cope with the flames, and in less than one hour the tannery was a pile of ashes. The loss will probably exceed $200,000; insurance, $37,000. The owners were McKay & Chisholm.

PHARMACEUTICAL.

San Francisco, June 25—At this morning's session of the American Pharmaceutical Association the following officers were elected: E. Painter, of New York, president; K. Simmons, of St. Paul, W. M. Searby, of San Francisco, J. W. Rickford, of Aberdeen, Mass., elected vice-presidents; S. A. Shepard, of Boston, treasurer; J. M. Maisch, of Philadelphia, secretary. Old Point Comfort, Virginia, was decided upon as the place for next year's convention.

AFTER BURKE.

Washington, June 25—The President, on his return from Cape May last night, signed the papers for the extradition of Martin Burke. This morning they were countersigned by the Secretary of State.

MRS HAYES' DEATH.

Fremont, Ohio, June 25—Mrs. General Hayes passed the night quietly, growing gradually weaker and passed away at 6:20 this morning. Her family, Mrs. Mitchell, of Columbus, Mrs. Huntington, Mrs Lucy Keeler and Mrs. A. H. Miller were at the bedside.

SLOWLY SINKING.

Lancaster, Pa., June 25—During the night Simon Cameron had a weak spell from which he subsequently rallied. Doctors say he cannot survive another 24 hours.

FIRE FOLLOWS FLOOD.

Unfortunate Johnstown Has a Narrow Escape From Extinction.

Johnstown, June 24—It was only due to the direction of the wind, that the remains of Johnstown were not utterly destroyed by fire this afternoon. The blaze began at one o'clock within the first ward schoolhouse, which stood on the bank of Stoney Creek. The building stood on the upper side of the dismal waste which the torrent of water swept clear across the town. Close by the school building, all jumbled together, were about thirty buildings, some of them in a good state of preservation, and inhabited. Next to these houses was a street, the only one not yet cleared of debris, and on the opposite side was a wide stretch of ground tightly packed with frame buildings in all manner of decrepit attitudes. Still further above were some of the best preserved buildings in the city. Had the wind carried the flames in the opposite direction, the fire would have destroyed what the flood had left. As it was the fire caused a veritable panic in the immediate vicinity, as it enveloped one house after the other in rapid succession. One of the abandoned houses had been a hardware store, and the explosion of a keg of powder in it sent the burning roof flying in fragments, thus increasing the danger. Men were put to work smothering the bonfires that stretched across the open space with earth, and in this manner they cut off the fire's line of communication to the threatened buildings, whose occupants were already moving the remnants of their furniture. The leveling of the houses with earth and the veering of the winds that sent the burning embers into Stoney Creek ended the danger in this direction. On the other side the fire met no opposition until it had reached the ruins of the packed streets. The militia and a gang of laborers worked hard at clearing the street, and then tore down a number of houses on the opposite side. By this time streams of water from the fire engines had their effect, and the fire was under control, after burning for two hours, and twenty-eight or thirty houses were in ashes. The whole population of the valley turned out to watch the conflagration, and so general became the belief that everything remaining would go up in smoke, that in all directions people were loading their effects on wagons, preparatory to fleeing to the hills. The money loss will be about $36,000. The fire was caused by three small boys setting fire to a pile of rubbish.

Toronto, June 25—William O'Connor left to-day for New York, where he will take the Germanic to-morrow for England.

BECOMES A DEFAULTER.

Kingston, June 25.—R. T. Burns, deputy postmaster, has been arrested on a charge of embezzlement. It is understood that Burns has confessed to appropriating about $3000. The case has created quite a sensation in the city and much sympathy is expressed for his family. He has been employed in the postoffice for twenty-six years, and was considered one of the most capable and correct officials in the department.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

An Alderman Apologizes—Haying Commenced on Lower Fraser.

[Special to The Times.]

Haying has commenced along the lower Fraser.

At a meeting of the City Council last evening, Alderman Curtis, at the request of the Mayor, made an ample apology for unseemly utterances made by him at the previous meeting.

MIDSUMMER EXAMINATION.

The Exercises at Spring Ridge School—Prize Lists, Etc.

The annual midsummer examination of the public schools of the city commenced this afternoon at the Spring Ridge school, of which Miss L. Horton is principal. Present, were the Hon. John Robson, Capt. Pope, Rev. Dr. Reid, Rev. D. Fraser, Trustees Heisterman and Erskine and a large number of ladies, parents of the children attending the school. About seventy little children, prettily attired and like so many rose-buds decorating the room were in attendance and ready and anxious for a holiday. A programme, which is published below, was rendered by the little ones after which the prizes were distributed. Speeches were delivered by the gentlemen present, in which the teacher was heartily congratulated on the success of her year's work. The school is growing so rapidly that an addition is at present being built to the original building. Following are the promotions and prize lists:

LARGE COAL AREAS.

Very Important Discoveries on Queen Charlotte Island.

Mr. James Deans was a passenger from Queen Charlotte Island, by the steamer Sardonyx to-day. Mr. Deans, with a party of five white men and three Indians, have been prospecting the property owned by the Queen Charlotte Anthracite Mining Company, and for the past two weeks their shifts of workingmen have been running a tunnel to tap the coal seam about 350 feet below the surface. The tunnel is now in 150 feet, and appearances indicate that it will not be long before the coal is reached. Mr. Alex. Melmoe, from the Springbo'n Mines, United States, has charge of the work. He thoroughly understands his business, and hopes to demonstrate the value of the property thoroughly, this season. A seam of bituminous coal, fifteen feet thick was discovered in the Tlelcomb river valley and traced to the anthracite formation, a distance of five miles. It is believed to extend over the whole of the southern part of Graham island. This discovery demonstrates the large area of the coal formation. Anthracite has been found in the old company's property where it was never known to exist before. This valuable property was some time ago bonded by the Springhill Co., and it is very probable that its enormous value will be sufficiently evident to their representatives to lead to a final transfer of the property in the course of a few months. British Columbians are only beginning to learn a trifle about the mineral wealth of their country.

Mr. Deans thinks that the marine department should place a buoy or stick, finger post at the sand bar across the entrance to Skidegate harbor to mark the channel. The cost would only be a few dollars, and it would be of great benefit to vessels of all kinds.

"HEDGING."

If our morning contemporary were given to betting, which he is not, we would be able to show that he has fully studied the advantages, under certain conditions, of "hedging." When a gambler stands to lose every dollar that he has put up he forthwith begins to "hedge," and although the necessity for his doing so does not indicate the possession of good judgment in the first place, the fact that he resorts to the only expedient possibly to save himself is proof that he is not totally blinded by his prejudices. But if the amiable editor of the Colonist never wagered a nickle on a horse race, he has staked his political reputation upon a government's policy and has discovered that he "stands to lose" if at all, and very probably to "go broke" irretrievably, as a result of his mistaken judgment.

The Colonist has practically abandoned the position it at first assumed on the land exchange controversy. But it has done worse than that. It has confessed that the Government was simply "lying low" while watching public opinion in order that it might the better shape its policy to catch the popular breeze. It has admitted that the Government has really no opinion at all upon a question which is essentially a Government question. In a word, the Colonist is "hedging," and hopes by adopting the trick of the gambler to come out right side up in the end.

THE CLAN-NA-GAEL SOCIETY.

A contemporary points out that it is the Clan-na-Gael Society, and not the great mass of the Irish-American people, which is on trial in the CRONIN murder case. There is undoubtedly good reason for discriminating between the machinations of this society and the honest agitators for reform in Ireland. These secret organizations are the worst friend the Irish cause has on this continent. Most of them are led by men who see opportunities to advance their own interests. They are the men who have raised vast sums of money for the Irish cause abroad, and have steadfastly refused to give any satisfactory accounting of it. For one year they succeeded in capturing the American branch of the Land League organization, and had ALEXANDER SULLIVAN chosen president. No sooner were they in power than they attempted to commit the League to the dynamite policy of agitation, but after a great struggle in the convention at Chicago in 1886 they were overthrown and PARNELL'S policy of Parliamentary agitation was approved by a large majority. They are the men, the New York Post says, to whom Mr. BLAINE turned in 1884, while they were in the very midst of their dynamite explosion operations, for recruits to make good the revolt for his candidacy in the Republican ranks, and his alliance with them carried the Irish question into Congress, where it defeated two extradition treaties and the fishery treaty, and made more mischief than any other single influence had caused in recent times. The same influence foisted PATRICK EGAN, one of their own number, upon us as American Minister to Chili. It would be an incalculable gain to the cause of home-rule and the politics on the continent if the whole organization could be put in gaol.

RENAN'S LAST HISTORY.

RENAN, who has earned himself enduring notoriety as a biographer of CHRIST, has recently published another book entitled a "History of the Israelites." This book is strictly in tenor with his history of CHRIST in the sense of its realism. He has succeeded in steering clear of sacred tradition, a feature peculiar to other authors on the subject. He carries the story from the reign of DAVID up to the capture of Samaria, and in the author's estimation it is the most important part of Jewish history, as it witnessed the transformation of the Jehovah, the national God of the Jews, and the beginning of Judaism. He holds that Judaism was a gradual evolution, and that at the time of DAVID and SOLOMON it could not be said to take rank as a national religion, since it did not differ materially from the belief of other peoples in Palestine. The germs of what was to prove the great faith of the world took shape during the reigns of DAVID and SOLOMON, but it was not until the time of HEZEKIAH 725 years before CHRIST that Judaism attained its full stature. But the extraordinary feature of this work is its realism. RENAN describes things with the vision of the realist, and seems to delight in laying bare the moral defects of DAVID and of SOLOMON. This process is carried out with the perfection of literary art, and his quiet sarcasm will be more effective with many than the ponderous proof of GIBBON. The sum and substance of RENAN's observation of Jewish history is that the work of the Israelite genius was by most far striking and impressive of any the world has ever seen and that it was not until the eighteenth century after CHRIST that this work was damaged by modern philosophy, which, to use the author's cunning phraseology, has shown that it "has never been established by observation that a superior being troubles himself, for a moral or immoral purpose, with the things of nature or the affairs of mankind." But what will most strike the reader is RENAN's lack of identity. He is only happy in bringing down the heroes of Judaism to the level of contemporary characters. Then he indulges in some peculiarly ingenious comparisons between Jewish prophetism and modern journalism, intimating that the Hebrew prophet voiced public opinion at the same time that he kept a shrewd eye upon the drift of popular sentiment. In fact, this history, brilliant as it is and profound as is much of its scholarship, reveals RENAN's incapacity to grasp the nobility of mind of the founders of Judaism, just as in the "Abbess of Jouarre" he displayed his lack of knowledge of the moral instinct of the present day.

FOUR HUNDRED MILLIONAIRES.

New York city is said to contain one hundred and twenty-five men, forty women, and one hundred and twenty-nine firms each good for more than one million dollars. Most of these fortunes have been built up within the past twenty-five years, which leads the World to ask if there will be room thereabouts for the poor man when another quarter of a century has rolled up as many more millions. What will be the effect of such an aggregation of wealth in the hands of a few men, no man can foretell. May not the pressure of the mighty reservoir, which a thousand golden rivulets are swelling each day while man works, each night while men sleep, each hour while men are passing it by unheeded, break at last through the barriers which the Constitution, society and the genius of democratic institutions have set up and sweep away social order before its merciless tide? The cry of "danger" was raised in vain in the valley of the Conemaugh.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Winnipeg Free Press: The C.P.R. would at once build a branch line connecting the navigable waters of the Columbia river and the Kootenay lake, did not the British Columbia Government, with what appears to be a very mistaken policy, handicap railway enterprise by outrageously unreasonable taxation.

The Johnstown flood fell heavily on some of the life insurance companies. They estimate the loss sustained as follows: Mutal Life Insurance Company of New York, $420,000; Equitable Life, New York, $26,000; New York Life Insurance Company, $50,000; United States Life Insurance Company, $100,000; Pennsylvania Mutual of Philadelphia, $16,000; Travelers' Insurance Company, $10,000.

Prohibition has received another crushing defeat in the eastern states. A vote was taken in Rhode Island on the 20th inst., for the repeal of the prohibitory amendment, resulting in 28,449 votes being recorded in favor of repeal and 9853 against. The amendment is therefore repealed by 5469 more than the required three-fifths of the total vote. The amendment was adopted in 1887 by a vote of 15,113 to 9,230.

The New York World was sued for damages for an alleged libel perpetrated by printing a piece of news. The World fought it out on the ground that printing accurately and without malice the news was not actionable, however it affected individuals. The judge upheld the defense, and the jury found that the news complained of was true and gave the World the verdict. The jury did not receive a tongue lashing from the judge for their wisdom.

The Toronto Mail, referring to the "Sea of Mountains" expression puts the matter in this way: "As we talk of a shower of misfortunes, a cloud of witnesses, an ocean of blessings, a wilderness of houses, a sea of troubles, and a sea of upturned faces, so in describing a district in which mountain closely follows mountain it is customary to speak of a sea of mountains. There is really nothing in the phrase beyond what the politicians choose to attribute to it. It is a figure of speech, and its use with regard to British Columbia can only be properly condemned if owing to the absence of mountains it is inapplicable. It is hardly probable, however, that anyone will claim that the mainland portion of the province is quite free from lofty elevations. Rumor says there are some notable mountains there, and that the province that possesses them is not to be despised, for they are loaded with timber and mineral wealth, and are calculated to produce more in cash within the next few years than some of the prairie lands elsewhere."

The Crofter Commissioners have issued several instalments of their decisions in the cases in Skye. In one portion of the estates of Macdonald, Lord of Armadale, Skye, (the Lord of the Isles) the rents were reduced 32 per cent. and 63 per cent. of the arrears were cancelled; in another part of the same estate the reductions average 20 per cent. and the arrears cancelled 66 per cent. A third instalment of decisions relates to the two estates in Glendale belonging respectively to the Rev. H. A. Macpherson and Mr. Nichol Martin, also of the island of Skye. From the estate of the former there are 141 cases, and the average reduction of rent being 35½ per cent. while of £2884 of arrears £2240 have been cancelled. From Mr. Martin's estate there are 78 cases, the reduction of rents averaging 37 per cent., while 76 per cent. of the arrears have been wiped off. The decisions on the McLeod and Waternish crofts have yet to be issued. This shows that the tenant farmers have been scandalously over rented.

—If the signal service will not bring rain it might at least let the clouds thunder.

With the use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery this unpleasantness has all been removed, and I now eat what suits my taste or fancy."

But there is no reason, when this wasting, attenuating disease is conquered by Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, why there should not be an appreciable gain in weight, which indeed is usually the case. It is a peerless remedy also for Constipation, Liver Complaint, Kidney troubles, and roots out all impurities from the blood.

—A good deed is never lost; he who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love.

"His pills as thick as hand-grenades flew,
And where they fell we certainly they slew,"

was said of one of those ignorant doctors in the early times, who might well have been called the side-de-camp of death. The sufferer from scrofula, with sores as bad as Job's, need not now curse the day he was born, for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore health and beauty, appetite and strength. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing salt-rheum, tetter, boils, carbuncles, sore eyes, scrofulous sores and swellings, hip-joint disease, white swellings, goitre, or thick neck, and enlarged glands.

—A young lawyer has taken to bragging in the theatrical way. He says: "My business last season was something fine nominal!"

—"I'm so indignant that I cannot properly express myself!" acid the speaker. "Then put a stamp on yourself and go by mail," was the unsympathetic response.

DOTHEBOYS HALL.

The Originals of "Nicholas Nickleby" Defended.

A letter of great interest to every reader of Dickens, signed "J. M. R.," appeared in the Newcastle Weekly Chronicle in reference to an article which that paper has published on Dotheboy's Hall, Bowes. The correspondent, who is a native of the Barnard Castle district, says:—"'Nicholas Nickleby,' a study in untruth, broke the hearts of two very decent people, and rent them to their grave before their time. The book (as far as the school aimed at was concerned) was a terrible libel. In the second edition Dickens protests that he meant no particular school. This may pass with outsiders; but those who know the district are aware that, like Dickens' picture of the school, and like his letters about the Rev. Thomas Binney, his protest lies on the cloudy side of truth. Anyone over fifty who has read the book, and who knows the district can see a dozen finger-posts in the novel directly pointing to one school. 'Squeers,' said Dickens,

"HAD ONLY ONE EYE."

This alone would show who was meant, as there was only one schoolmaster near Greta Bridge who had only one eye. The blow aimed so meanly was the outcome for spite and fun, for Dickens would have his laugh, if his best friend had died for it. The prototype of Squeers gave great offence to H. K. Brown and Dickens by his haughty bearing when they invaded his school. For this he was deprived of character, reason and ultimately of his life. No crueller wrong was ever done than this by any literary writer of our time.

"The picture drawn of the school was as far from the truth as it well could be. In Dickens' novel Nicholas was the only usher. The school contained about forty scholars. They were bleary-eyed, hair-lipped and deformed. This picture was made to do duty for a school where the scholars numbered two hundred, and where the teachers were seldom fewer than seven. The charges of feeding the boys on cattle that had died a natural death, the brimstone and treacle farce, the frozen pump story—all these and a heap of other novel furniture, were simply

SO MANY ARTISTIC UNTRUTHS.

I have heard Mr. Bailton, game dealer of Barnard Castle, tell how many geese, turkeys, etc., he used to supply for 'home consumption'. My grandfather, who lived near Bowes, knew the schoolmaster well. I have talked to him many an hour about Dotheboys, and his indignation at the perversion of fact by Dickens was fierce enough to be almost amusing. He used to describe the scholars as perfectly healthy young scamps, declaring that he thought they knew the flavor of every apple, pear and plum tree in the neighborhood. His description of the master was that he was a kindly, good-hearted fellow, just a shade hasty in his temper, not by any means the man to feed boys on natural dead cow.

"As to the picture of Miss Fanny Squeers, the lady who has had to suffer vicariously for that imaginary character she was one of the

SWEETEST AND KINDEST OF WOMEN.

When I was an apprentice lad I knew her fairly well. Her consideration for the feelings of others, her fear lest she herself should give you any unnecessary trouble, I shall never forget. Every word I ever heard her utter, every glance of her eye or motion of her hand, bespoke the kindly lady. She was the sort of woman a dog or a child leaps to instinctively. She has suffered her undeserved martyrdom in silence, but even now our Dickens worshippers will not let her rest.

"The correspondent you quote writes about the occupant of Dotheboys Hall objecting to the visits of gentlemen like himself,' and suggests that he might have got pitched out if the proprietor had found him prying about his kitchen. Well, I wish more strength to the arm of the pitcher, and a healthy energy to his foot the next time a gentleman of the Dickens cut invades h a privacy.

"In my youth I remember it was said that the book which had killed the father and mother had married the daughter, that some gentlemen who know the family had and that indignant sympathy budded and blossomed into love and marriage. If that was so it would be delightful to hear that a descendant of such a union periodically varied the monotony of Bowes life by lifting these literary Paul Prys out of his invaded kitchen, and by assisting them along the broad road that leads from Bowes to Greta Bridge. The article you quote says Fanny Squeers is dead. If ever I am in the neighborhood where she lies, I hope to lay a flower upon the tomb of the patient, silent, injured dead."

ALIEN LABOR.

The Dominion Government Asked to Retaliate on the United States.

Ottawa, June 24.—The recent action of the United States authorities at the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence in applying the provisions of the alien contract law to Canadian residents along the river front has evoked great indignation among those who have picked up a living at the islands during the summer as hotel men, boatmen, fishermen, carpenters, waiters, etc. Mr. Tailor, who lives at Gananoque, in the heart of the islands, and represents a large sect on of territory thereabout, in the House of Commons, has interviewed the Minister of Customs and Fisheries on the matter. He asked that representations be made to Washington to ask the authorities to recede from the position they have taken and permit the Canadians to resume work, failing which, he argued, that the provision of the Dominion statute respecting fishing by foreign vessels, under which the Government can exclude any foreign boat or vessel from the inland waters of Canada be rigidly enforced, and in the event of the law being transgressed, any boat or vessel can be seized and confiscated. If this request is carried out hundreds of New Yorkers who have made large investments on the islands as a summer resort, would have their pleasure greatly restricted. The Ministers said they would consider the matter.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Sir Charles Tupper Delivers a Speech at the Dinner of the League.

London, June 22—Sir Charles Tupper made an important speech at the annual dinner of the Imperial Federation League to-night. He congratulated the League on the progress of the movement in Canada, though himself unable to join owing to the Federal Party in Canada. Unless the Empire must fall to pieces unless a great radical change in the constitution was effected. The movement had noteet the heather on fire in Canada, because, perhaps, no colony more had stimulus to loyalty to the Empire, also because the French Canadian population desired nothing better than their existing liberties. Still, if the movement should take a practical turn let the British Government and the Opposition unite, and summons an Imperial Conference in London to consider the whole question, especially on the basis of self-interest to each part of the Empire. He believed such a convention would have a practical outcome, and would lead to the adoption of a fiscal policy, which would add strength and unity to the Empire. The speaker was much cheered.

Lord Herschel thought a conference would be, perhaps premature.

Mr. Rankin, M. P., urged the Dominion Government to take the initiative with the other colonies.

SINGLE TAX.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—Your single tax correspondent, I am sorry to observe, while prolific of words is niggardly of reasons. He tells us that the single tax system will remedy existing abuses, but his reasons are vague. He assumes that because he and a small minority of men are willing to forego the ownership of land, that they may better their condition, the great majority should pull their financial props out from under themselves by following suit. To be candid with the correspondent, who seems to be perfectly sincere in his arguments, I do not reject the single tax idea as a proposition looking towards the amelioration of the abuses which have crept into our political and social system. I concede the beneficence of the idea, but object to it because it is not based on an intelligent conception of the ruling instincts of mankind. Our present system is the normal outgrowth of what men most desire. Let it be moral or immoral, just or unjust, equitable or inequitable, it is the normal effect of the bias of character, and to change the law without changing the character is to impose conditions which cannot endure. We hold the faculty of acquisitiveness to be innate, that social conditions shape themselves accordingly, and that, therefore, any condition which requires any considerable modification of this faculty is unnatural, abnormal, and consequently impracticable. Originally all men started even. What are the relations of men to each other now? Will anybody presume to say that the nature and quality of civilization is other than characteristic? Is not the elaborate condition of society, abuses and all, just what might have been expected of men in whom acquisitiveness is a governing passion, the strongest, smartest and best men coming out on top? We have in this a simple and natural exemplification of the governing instincts of mankind. Were not these instincts true and normal, land would be free to all men to-day. Now, it seems sheer folly to undertake to reverse these conditions, unless you first remove the cause of them. It makes no difference the dictum of Mill or Spencer. The world may agree with them in the abstract, but is not prepared to comply in the concrete. To what extent the faculty of acquisition, ambition and other forms of selfishness are God-given, it is impossible to determine; but it does not require a very profound philosophy to perceive that such things are fundamental in human nature and inseparable from progress. I grant the equitableness of single tax, but I do not concede the equitableness of men, nor do I believe that men will ever arrive at that stage of perfection consonant with equitableness, and so I hold that equity in the concrete cannot be maintained. The drift of civilization is from simple to complex forms, exemplifying the survival of the fittest; and ethics, after all, plays but a secondary role. Anybody familiar with the history of the continent must see that business, not ethics has been the guiding principle. Ethics, sprang from a sense of justice, was promulgated by conscience, but has been adopted only so far as was required to give society reasonable stability, without barring the way to wealth and power. Lycurgus persuaded the Spartans to own the land in common. Lysander, a few hundred years later, broke up the system by exciting the cupidity of the people. Our modern Lycurgus may succeed in bringing about the adoption of the single tax idea, but some Lysander will spring up and knock the business into smithereens. The natural drift of men is to own the earth. God gave them this instinct in the beginning; energetic men will come out on top, the weak will go to the wall. "Man was made to mourn," and as palatable a morsel as single tax is, we are afraid it can never be assimilated.

St. John, N. B., June 24—Rev. H. P. Crawperthwaite has been elected president of the Methodist Conference, in session here. The new president is a strong advocate of the doctrine known as "Entire Sanctification," which has caused trouble among the local Methodists. The election is well received by the extreme holiness people. An address on the Jesuit question was delivered by the Rev. B. B. Keeper, of Ontario. He declared that the people of Ontario had spoken with a voice that could not be misunderstood, saying that no man of the 188 would hereafter receive their support.

The Street Railway Guarantee By-Law, 1889.

Whereas, by a by-law entitled the "Street Railway Bylaw, 1886," passed by the Corporation of the City of Victoria on the 5th day of December, A. D. 1886, a charter or franchise was granted by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the said City of Victoria, to J. Douglas Warren, Andrew Gray, David W. Higgins, Joseph Hunter and Thomas Shotbolt, to lay tracks, erect poles and string wires thereon for motor, lighting, and other electrical purposes.

And whereas, the said J. Douglas Warren, Andrew Gray, D. W. Higgins, Joseph Hunter and Thomas Shotbolt have since assigned all their right, title and interest in and to the said charter or franchise, through the Honorable John Herbert Turner as Trustee, to a company incorporated and known as the National Electric Tramway and Lighting Company, limited liability.

And whereas, the said National Electric Tramway and Lighting Company, limited liability, is desirous of proceeding to completion the work contemplated and provided for by the said charter or franchise, and have applied to the Corporation of the City of Victoria for aid, in order that the said works may be speedily constructed and put in operation.

And whereas, it is expedient to grant the prayer of the said company for such aid by a guarantee of interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum for a period of twenty years on the sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000), for a part of the undertaking contemplated by said company, namely, for the purpose of constructing and equipping a Street Tramway or Railway.

And whereas it will require the sum of two thousand dollars ($2000), to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of said interest, in the event of the said corporation being called upon to pay the same;

Be whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year 1888, was $5,738,415.00, irrespective of any future increase of the rateable property of the municipality and of any income in the nature of tolls, interest, or dividends from the work, or from any stock, shares or interest in the work upon which the money so to be raised or any part thereof is intended to be invested, and also irrespective of any income from the temporary investment of the sinking fund or any part thereof.

And whereas for paying the said interest (in case as aforesaid) it will require an equal annual special rate of one twenty-eighth of one per cent. on the dollar;

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Therefore be it enacted by the Mayor and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. That the Corporation of the City of Victoria shall guarantee interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum on the bonds of the said National Electric Tramway and Lighting Company, limited liability, to the amount of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) for a period of twenty years from the date of said guarantee in manner following, namely:

2. When it shall have been shown to the satisfaction of the Corporation of the City of Victoria that fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) of the capital stock of the said Company has been paid up by the subscribers thereto and bona fide expended in and towards the construction of a street railway in said city by said company according to their charter, the said corporation shall guarantee interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum on a first issue of bonds of the said company to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000); the interest so guaranteed to be paid half-yearly.

3. When it shall have been shown to the satisfaction of the said corporation that a further sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) of the capital stock of the said company has been paid up by the shareholders thereof and a sum of at least forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000) has been bona fide expended in and towards the construction of a street railway in said city by the said company, the said corporation shall further guarantee interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum on a further issue of bonds to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) for a period of twenty years from the date of such guarantee, the interest so guaranteed to be payable half-yearly.

4. When it shall have been shown to the satisfaction of the said corporation that a further sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of the capital stock of the said company has been paid up by the shareholders thereof and that a sum of at least seventy thousand dollars ($70,000) has been bona fide expended by the company in and towards the construction of a street railway aforesaid, the said corporation shall further guarantee interest at the rate of five per centum per annum on a further and final issue by the said company of bonds to the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for a period of twenty years from the date of such guarantee, the interest so guaranteed to be payable half-yearly, the proceeds of this last issue of bonds to be expended as aforesaid.

5. The liability the said corporation shall not extend beyond the guarantee of interest at the rate of five per centum per annum as aforesaid.

6. The guarantee is subject to the conditions that the said corporation shall have the right to appoint one or more auditors to examine the books of the said company, and shall have the further right to a representative on the board of directors of the said company during the whole period of the continuance of this guarantee, such representative to be nominated by the said corporation.

7. THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in the Province, it commends itself to the support of all desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to everyone interested in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

—The Columbian says a fire started up in some dead timber near the Scott road a few days ago and spread so rapidly that the rabbits were forced to abandon their homes and fly before the heat and flames. They were seen to cross the Scott road in hundreds, and some were so frightened that they lay down and were easily caught.

—A large blast was fired yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock in the Nicol Rock, Nanaimo harbor. The charge consisted of about 300 pounds of dynamite. A column of water shot up into the air and several of the houses in Nanaimo were shaken. A great many rock cod were killed by the violence of the explosion.

—Indian dudes are something new in this province, but the Columbian says we have got them all the same. Four of these gentry, none and no bows of Chief James, of Fort Douglas, were to be seen this morning lolling in front of Vienen's warehouse, smoking cigarettes in most dainty fashion and affecting the most well-bred indifference to all others but themselves. In the matter of dress they displayed a slight want of taste in some respects, but on the whole they were remarkably well dressed for Siwashes.

—A fresh newspaper scribe on one of our city contemporaries has called attention to a typographical error, which appeared in the telegraph head in our issue of Saturday last. We wrote "a villain's sentence" and it appeared "a villainous sentence." The error was so palpably a clerical one that we naturally imagined no one would be so densely obtuse as to be misled in regard to our meaning. But it appears we were mistaken. We regret the error, it is true, but we regret still more that a newspaper man was the only person in the city who could not detect it.

Nanaimo Weddings.

Mr. Edward Dawson, foreman of the Union colliery mines, Comox, and Miss Ann Smith, of Comox, were united in marriage on the 21st inst.

On Sunday evening after the regular services in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Nanaimo, Mr. James Bolton and Miss Jeannette Barton were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Good, the rector, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

A Favorite Resort.

It is stated in the San Francisco papers that a young man named Frank T. Williams is in hiding in this city. Williams, according to the press of San Francisco, is implicated in a note transaction in Los Angeles, whereby Mr. Crocker was defrauded of a large sum. He is described as a blond, five feet ten inches in height and good looking. Victoria of late seems to be the haven crooked people look to for safety.

Firemen's Tournament.

The Victoria Hose Company will leave for Vancouver on Saturday night and will return on Wednesday. On Monday and Tuesday they will compete with the mainland teams. At 8 o'clock on Friday evening next the hose team will give an exhibition run on Yates street in front of No. 3 Engine House. They will run with the new hose carriage and will appear in their racing suits. Foreman M. J. Conlin collected a sum of money to defray the expenses of the team and the young men will make an effort to retain for Victoria the proud position at present held as the best fire department this side of Portland. The following will compose the hose company: G Moss, E B Irving, J Lawson, F Hinds, C Smith, T Watson, L G Burns, G Ledingham, J McDougall, J Lathrope, W Deasy, E Whitcomb, J Leroy, J Elliott, Foreman M J Conlin, G Dunn, F Hinds (captain).

Improvements.

The work of improving the ground for W. Grimm's three-storey brick carriage shop on Johnson street was commenced this morning. Two cottages on the place will be torn down.

Another New Brick.

Mr. J. J. Southgate will erect a two-storey brick with basement on the vacant lot on Fort street, in the rear of Angus & Gordon's grocery store. Mr. Jno. Teague is the architect and calls for tenders for the same, to be handed in before noon, July 6th.

Quick Passage.

Capt. Gordon, of the Wellington, which came up the Straits this morning, reports having passed a vessel off Sooke which he took to be the H. B. Company's bark Titania. The Titania is 105 days out to-day. The last trip out was made in exceptionally quick time, the length of the voyage being 107 days.

Johnstown Relief.

Mayor Grant has received the following: "Johnstown, Pa., June 15, 1889—Dear Sir: Your letter of the 9th inst. has been received and contents found as stated, viz., one hundred and fifty dollars. Please return our thanks to your good people for their prompt and valued contributions in our time of need, and for your individual efforts in our behalf. Accept our thanks. W. C. Lewis, Treas. Finance Committee."

To day Mayor Grant forwarded $169.25 to J. B. Lewis, chairman of the Seattle Relief Committee, and $20 to W. C. Lewis, chairman of the Johnstown Relief Committee, in addition to the amounts already sent.

Masonic Grand Lodge.

The Masonic Grand Lodge completed its business last evening and adjourned the session. In accordance with the custom of the order, the general proceedings of the high court are not made public and will not be obtainable by the members of the order generally till the report is printed and distributed among them. The business of the grand lodge is understood to be in a gratifying condition, the order having made rapid progress in respect to membership and finances during the last term. The late administration is admitted to have been one possessed of more than usual ability.

An Interesting History.

The steamer Gladys, sold at New Westminster a few days ago to Capt. Power of Moodyville, has a very interesting history. A man named McCleary, of Seattle, had a large mortgage on her when she was running on the Skagit River, under the original name, the Grace. McCleary wanted to foreclose, but the captain, who was also her owner, cut his cables and made for the Fraser River, where he arrived safely. A further attempt was made to recover the vessel, but without effect, and the captain finally sold her to Mr. W. B. Townsend of Westminster, who registered her under the name of the Gladys.

A Grand Coming Event.

From all indications Vancouver is to have a grand two-day's celebration, commencing on Dominion Day and extending over the following day, which is just one week from to day. There are sports innumerable and substantial prizes to be awarded, and the names of the men having the affair in hand are guarantees that what is represented will actually take place, and the prizes awarded on merit. Vancouver gracefully yielded to Victoria the right of celebrating the Queen's Birthday and sent a goodly contingent of citizens to the auspicious event. Now there is a chance to reciprocate. The change of air and scenery and a look at the ambitious city are alone inducements enough for one to make the trip. The steamers Islander and Princess Louise will both perform service during the celebration, so there is no fear of overcrowding.

Always Consistent.

A contemporary publishes the following: "It seems a strange thing that whilst so much outcry is being made in our city about the "social evil" nothing is being done to help those unfortunates who, having once fallen, have positively no chance to rise again. There was, I am told, some idea last winter of forming a home some what similar in character to the one on Cormorant street, but if so it has fallen to the ground, only for a time it is to be hoped, for until some such action be effected the preachers may expend their breath upon more worthy objects. We believe in deeds, not words." If it is any use—for the writer of the above evidently confines his reading to the columns of our evening contemporary—we might say for the edification of one individual at least that a home has already been established on Cormorant street, a fact which was announced in this paper some weeks ago. The newspaper in question has a perfect right to keep up its reputation for giving the news in a certain way, but the poor "preachers" should not suffer.

Nanaimo to the Front.

Last August, says the Nanaimo Free Press, Mr. H. D. Helmcken, of Victoria, offered to present two prizes for competition in all the public schools of the province. The one was for an essay on "Education and its benefits," and the other for a poem, subject "Justice." The latter, we are pleased to say, has been awarded to Miss Marion Gordon, daughter of our worthy representative. That young lady also received special mention for her essay on education. We congratulate Miss Gordon on the honors she has won not only for herself but for her native city—and also Mr. E. B. Paul, M. A., the efficient and popular principal of the High School, on the grand result of his assiduous teaching. Following is the prize poem:

"In the course of justice we should not see
Salvation: we do for mercy plead,
So speaks the lady fair, as at the bench she stands,
To save her husband from Shylock's greed.
If in this life uncertain, undecided,
Some Portia for us all could plead
The world for us would be less rough.
Harm could not come from unjust deed,
On earth, as in heaven, the accused are judged,
By those who most worthy are,
The judge decides as he thinks God would,
But his wisdom is less by far.
Above this world so full of trials,
The God of man doth reign;
Before Him on the Judgment Day,
The judge and judged he will arraign.
And if on that day which may come soon,
We would for justice crave;
We must give mercy to our fellow-men,
If we would seek it beyond the grave.

The Last Act.

The funeral of the unfortunate girl, Eden Farringworth, who committed suicide in the house on Broughton street Sunday morning, took place on Monday. About 11 o'clock, after the hearse had drawn up in front of the door, a short service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Starr, a few of the female associates of the deceased, two Christian ladies and two or three men being present. The service consisted of the reading of two short passages of Scripture, suggested by the life of the deceased, and followed by a short address and prayer. Having read the passages of Scripture the clergyman asked, "in the face of these divine words, how shall we condemn this dead girl? Shall we not rather pity her." He observed that while woman, robbed of her purity and with her happiness wrecked is made an outcast upon the world, the cause of her ruin is still received with open arms in the drawing rooms of society. If she was degraded the man who was the cause of her degradation should surely suffer with her. He appealed to those, whom he might not have the opportunity of addressing again, to accept the benediction of Christ, "go and sin no more." After the service the casket was carried by the carriage drivers to the hearse with an unusual number of beautiful and costly floral offerings. The casket, in which the remains were encased, was also of a costly character being polished oak with silver mountings. The interment was made in the strangers corner of Ross Bay cemetery.

FROM THE NORTH.

Arrival of the First Canned Salmon To-Day—General Notes.

The Sardonyx, Capt. Meyer, arrived from northern ports at ten o'clock this morning. Exceptionally fine weather was met with on the entire trip. The steamer brought down 500 cases of canned salmon from the British American Packing Co.'s cannery. This is the first canned salmon of the year to make its appearance in the market from the northern coast. The manager of the B. A. P. Co., is Mr. Gus Holmes, a rustler from the word "go," and he is to be congratulated on being the first in the market with his goods. There also arrived down from Queen Charlotte Island 155 bbls. of choice black cod. From Skidegate there were 200 cases and 36 drums of oil. There was a large miscellaneous freight of furs, seal skins, etc.

At the majority of the canneries canning operations were rather slack owing to the small run of salmon, but better hopes were entertained for this week. At McLellan's cannery on the Naas things were unusually lively, and 1200 cases of salmon were already packed.

Mr. David Fee, at Echo Cove, had the new building for the Cascade cannery about half completed, and reports say the building is both fine and modern.

An Indian woman was brought down on the steamer, charged with having attempted to enter Cunningham's store in the night. She was detected by Mr. Cunningham under peculiar circumstances.

Excellent order was being maintained throughout the various fishing stations, and crime was at a minimum.

The passengers arriving down were: John O'Leary, William Barrett, Charles Freeman, James Deans, M. Lundberg, J. E. Williams, A. J. Spear and 28 in the steerage. The consignees are: William McDowell, J Engelhardt, Hudson's Bay Co, Albion Iron Works, Findlay Durham & Brodie, Welch Rithet & Co, J. A. Clearihue, A. Magnesen, P. McQuade & Son, Morris Moss, Creighton Fraser & Co.
